LEARNING TOGETHER RESPECT-

This Week:

This week we have continued our topic of 'What is life like in Mexico?' by looking at the legacy left behind by the Maya civilisation. We began the week by looking at different aspects of Maya religion and then we created a fact-file containing information about various Maya gods.

In our computing lessons, we have begun looking at a variety of online safety issues, most of which the children were very familiar with, and how they can manage online risks to ensure their own, and others, safety.

We have also managed to get lots of practise in with our production. We are so impressed with how quickly the children have learnt their lines. As we will not have an opportunity to rehearse our production next week, please encourage your children to read over their lines and practise the lyrics to the songs.

Stars Of The Week

Nancy I really appreciate all the little jobs you do for me; you are kind, generous and so thoughtful! I don't know what I am going to do next year without you!

Lucas we were really impressed with your contributions to our e-safety discussion. You raised some brilliant points and showed you really understand the importance of staying safe online.

Next Week:

We are incredibly excited about next week and experiencing life at Bushey Meads. Here are just a few reminders:

- The school day will begin at 8:30 and finish at 3:05 via the back gate on Harcourt Road
- All children must wear full Little Reddings school uniform
- PE kits will be needed on Monday to participate in a sports lesson
- If any child has any medication or an inhaler, they must bring this with them on Monday morning
- Parents are invited to attend a presentation showing your child's work on Friday 29th at 2:15.
- If your child falls ill or is absent for any reason, you must still call Little Reddings and report the absence in the normal way.
